To be a good teacher, you need some traits of a good actor : you must be able to hold the attention and interest of your audience. You must be a clear speaker with a good, strong, pleasing voice which is fully under your control and you must be able to act what you are teaching in order to make its meaning clear. Watch a good teacher and you will see that he does not sit motionless, he stands the whole time he is teaching, he walks about using his arms, hands and fingers to help him in his explanations and face to express his feelings. The fact that a good teacher has some of the gifts of a good actor, doesn't mean that he will indeed be able to act well on the stage for these are very important points of difference between a teacher's work and an actor's. The actor has to speak the words which he has learnt by heart. A teacher works in a quite different way. His audience takes an active part in his play. They ask and answer questions.
